This month's work focuses on SORA v2 maintenance and SORA v3 development, as well as SORA Wallet work.

Blockchain

Activities carried out included regular synchronization with builders and ecosystem stakeholders to ensure project alignment and information flow.

Routine maintenance of the blockchain codebase was performed, including bug fixing and technical improvements to enhance stability, performance, and long-term sustainability of the system.

The team engaged in continuous communication to support collaborative development and effective coordination. Design, project management, and back-end development tasks were executed across multiple blockchain initiatives.

Additionally, collaboration with government actors was undertaken to design and implement blockchain-based solutions aimed at fostering economic growth in developing countries.

Mobile Apps

The team developed a white-label mobile wallet application (SORA Card) for an ecosystem partner, tailored to a specific business use case. This included the execution of design activities, mobile development work, and end-to-end project management to ensure timely delivery and functional alignment with partner requirements.

Additional work involved the refinement of app design and ongoing coordination to manage and support continuous improvements to the SORA Card mobile application.
